Wistaria Snaps Into Bloom Forcing Firemen To Open Fete Next Friday, Feb. 15

Rainy And Balmey Weather
Fix Earliest Date In History Of Vine

One week from today—next Friday, February 15, Sierra Madre's Wistaria Fete will open—the earliest date in the history of the famous vine. Weather conditions, rainy and balmey, led the vine to suddenly give notice that it would take on its loveliest dress much earlier this year, and the Volunteer Firemen, sponsoring the show, through Chief W. D. Richards, very reluctantly announced yesterday the opening date. The earliest date the Fete ever opened before was last year on March 17th.

The firemen will have to work on 24-hour shifts to make the Fete a success equal to last year's, or any other year. Time is short but the old vine cannot be stopped. It's early coming out will probably bring it added beauty. Each succeeding year it seems to develop earlier, defying all experts. Until last year the Fete was held in April, or as late as May.

Already there are thousands of thinly jacketed lavender blossoms ready to burst into full bloom, and a few of the flowers are opening. All the gardens seem to be keeping pace with the vine, and the flower display promises to be of unmatched magnificence.

Because the sale of two lots on the Fennel estate has cut valuable room from the already limited parking facilities, the firemen must prepare the south entrance to the parking lot to serve as both an entrance and exit. Booths must be set up, flower displays arranged, and a hundred other necessary details taken care of on short notice.

"It is like a three alarm fire," said Chief Richards, "but the boys will be on the job and this year's Fete will be a credit to Sierra Madre, as usual."

Local Scouts Will Go To Washington

Two Boys From Troops Here
Eligible For Trip To National Capital

Today at 5:45 p. m., Sierra Madre Boy Scouts will assemble to hear the nationwide radio talk addressed to them and their fellow scouts elsewhere by President Roosevelt. The occasion for the talk is the 25th anniversary celebration of the scouts of America.

In August one scout from each of the country's 30,000 troops will go to Washington to take part in the National Jamboree, which is planned to be the greatest gathering of boys ever to assemble in the United States.

Two Sierra Madre boys will be among this number, although local scout executives have not yet been informed as to the qualifications necessary to choose the individuals.

During the period of the Jamboree the scouts will live under canvas, with every tent in the encampment in sight of the Capitol, the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial and the Robert E. Lee mansion at Arlington.

Tailman H. Trask, scout executive of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley council states that this district will be entitled to a delegation of 112 boys. Captain E. G. Everett, of the local advisory committee, is in charge of arrangements here, and additional information may be secured from him.

STORM LEAVES THREE INCHES OF RAIN, BRINGING THE TOTAL EIGHT INCHES ABOVE NORMAL

Record High Mark For This Time Of Year Is Already Established

WEATHER? Yes, Madam, we have been having quite a bit of it all right. It was none other than the Old Weather Prophet of the City Hall, waiting on the Timid Old Lady who makes a habit of confusing Jack Hosford with Colonel Hersey, U. S. B. M., retired.

"I should like to know," the T.O.L. ventured, "if it's going to rain tomorrow. You see, a party of us girls were planning a picnic at that new park down at Santa Anita."

This started the O.W.P. off on a statistical word voyage. "Madam," he said, "only the Lord and the clouds know, and neither is disposed to give out advance dope. All I can tell you is that it has rained over three inches since the storm started Sunday."

"That brings the season's total up to a record high of 21 inches—well past last year's totode of 19.31, which included the big New Year's flood. Normal rainfall for this time of year is only 11.68 inches, so you can see that this is most unusual weather. Why the normal rainfall for February is only 4.82 inches, and it's rained almost that much already in the first week of the month."

"Well thank heavens," sighed the Timid Old Lady, "that it will be summer by next month."

"Summer!" said the Old Weather Prophet sarcastically. "Don't you know that in 1926 April

R O Caukin Is Appointed As Postmaster

Former Legion Commander
Relieves Mrs. Jessica H.
Wright Next Tuesday

Ray O. Caukin, past commander of the local Legion post, received notification from Postmaster General Farley yesterday of his appointment as Postmaster at Sierra Madre. He will take charge Tuesday morning.

A native Californian, Mr. Caukin was born in Oakland and first went into business as an electrician in San Francisco. Subsequently he was employed with large hydraulic power houses in the Sierra Nevada, and later he enlisted and was a member of the U. S. Signal Corps during the world war.

Active in Legion work in Sierra Madre since he and his family moved here in 1925, Mr. Caukin has also been valuable to the community as a member of the board of directors of the Red Cross Chapter and secretary of the executive committee of the Boy Scout organization.

The appointment, which must be followed by a civil service examination at a later date to make it permanent, came at the recommendation of Congressman John Steven McGroarty. Mr. McGroarty sent a letter of congratulation to Mr. Caukin, wishing him success in his new undertaking.

Mrs. Jessica Wright, the retiring postmistress, would have held office here for thirteen years the first of this July. She received her appointment under the Republic administration in 1922.

brought the biggest flood in Sierra Madre history? Also, don't fool yourself that February won't bring a lot more rain. Huh! In 1914 it rained 19.14 inches in February, and . . ."

"Please," said the Timid Old Lady in a small voice, "say no more. All I wanted to know was about my picnic tomorrow. Aren't you Colonel Hersey, young man?"

"Do we have to go over all that again? My name is Hosford. Jack Hosford. I work here."

Muttering something about impertinence the old lady shook her head free of figures and started out, then relenting a little she said: "Say young man, I'm sorry about always getting you and Colonel Hersey mixed up. Can't I do something for you, in return?"

"Yeh," said the unmasked prophet. "How about a tip on the races tomorrow, seeing as how you're going on a picnic down there. I'll guarantee it won't rain—much."

"Flying X in the fifth," murmured the old lady, no longer timid. "Do you want me to take your money down for you?"

There was little run off in the gentle rains that have fallen during the week. The water soaked right into the ground to the great joy of ranchers and home gardeners. The sun broke through the clouds yesterday while a snow storm raged in the mountains above the city. It was the first appearance of the sun since Sunday—a truly unusual condition in Sierra Madre.

'Where Nothing Ever Happens' Rated In Best Seller Class

Best Seller! That's music to any author's ears. This week Lee Shippey received word from Houghton Mifflin that "Where Nothing Ever Happens" is continuing its early popularity, and has appeared on the New York Herald-Tribune's best seller listing. It took an hour of a reporter's time to wring this out of Lee—and make him prove it.

Now if only some "Ourville" citizen with an imagined grievance will sue for libel, the sales will really boom!

High Spot In Art Exhibits Reached Here

Reception Sunday Afternoon
For Western Academy
Painters

By Vernon Jay Morse

Setting a new high for notable exhibits, the Little Gallery is showing this month a group of paintings from the Annual Museum show of the Academy of Western Painters. Included are works by many nationally distinguished artists of the Southland, several of them members of the National Academy, America's greatest art organization.

The Academy of Western Painters is trying to give California's academic painters the same sort of encouragement and recognition that the National Academy does in the east, trying to point the way to better, more truthful, more thoughtful painting, and trying, too, to re-establish academic art in its just place of importance in the circle of exhibited art from which it has been all but pushed aside by the moderns.

Academic art is something of us can understand and it deserves its place in all exhibitions and in all art activities and we of Sierra Madre may see some of its finest achievements through this fine show.

Paul Lauritz and Duncan Gleason are at the helm of the new Academy of Western Painters and they have made a fine start of carrying out the aims of the organization. Be sure to see their paintings in the show. Lauritz shows a striking marine and Gleason's painting is a romantic Clipper-ship subject which shows his knowledge of sea lore and excellent illustrative ability.

Mr. May M. Olds has arranged a beautiful setting for the opening day, a new note in Little Gallery receptions. Come to the City Hall Sunday afternoon and see for yourself. The reception begins at 2 o'clock.

Everyone should realize that it takes a tremendous expense of energy to stage these exhibits and the city deserves your attendance to show your appreciation of the work it has done to provide you with art entertainment.

Democrats Of Sierra Madre Form A Club

John P. Schaefer was elected president of the American Democracy of California, Sierra Madre Club, at an organization meeting held here Thursday evening. William J. Schiltz was chosen vice-president, and Mrs. May G. Schaefer, secretary.

Prior to the adoption of by-laws and constitution, John A. Kish, Los Angeles executive of the American Democracy organization in this State, spoke on the objectives of the club. He said that the group, pledged to support the principles of the Democratic party, will work against the selfish tendency to put party and party obligation behind individualism.

Other officers elected include Col. Ralph L. Kruger, 2nd vice-president; James P. Forbes, financial secretary; William O'Neill, treasurer; T. S. Mathis, and Gerald Hemming, sergeants at arms.

On the executive committee are Paul Barksdale D'Orr, rules; Col. Ralph Kruger, resolutions; Mrs. May G. Schaefer, publicity; William J. Schiltz, organization; Victor Hill, membership; Laurel E. Steinberger, precinct captain; and James P. Forbes, house.

Meetings will be held the first and fourth Monday of each month with the annual meeting on President Roosevelt's birthday every year.

Sierra Madre Pupils Star At Pasadena

Local Youngsters Prominent In Graduating Exercises
At Junior High

"Schooldays, Schooldays . . ." the old school bell ringing, the rush to catch car or bus, the tired arm carrying books, well—today marks the last day of all that for a score of Sierra Madre youngsters who will receive diplomas at the mid-winter graduation exercises. At Woodrow Wilson, Pasadena, tonight, Sierra Madre will be doubly represented in the ceremony as the Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard is to give the invocation. Many of the local pupils will be conspicuous on the program. Howard Morgridge will speak on "Qualifying Life Values Through Athletics," and will play the accompaniment to the class chorus rendition of "To the Hill Top."

Virginia Stimpfing will give the students' response to the awarding of citizenship honors. All of the girls will wear afternoon or sport dresses of pastel colors while the boys are to be dressed in dark suits.

Woodrow Wilson candidates for graduation from this city include Howard Morgridge, Joe Morgan, James Stivers, Sam Beber, Harold Wolfe, Charles Hibbs, Carol Farrington, George Medigovich, Charlotte Keltz, Elizabeth Huber, Jane Mitchell and Virginia Stimpfing.

Pasadena Junior College graduates and details concerning the outstanding Sierra Madre students will be given notice next week, as the list of candidates has not yet been released by the college registration office.

The Sierra Madre grammar school does not hold mid-winter graduating ceremonies, but is turning out 29 graduates who will be booked at Junior High the next term.

They are John Coit, Preston Evans, Burton Frechtman, Sidney Fried, Frank Kibbee, Ralph Knapp, Russell Lovejoy, Richard McComb, Dennis Mora, Wallace Olsen, James Sakamoto, Kazuto Shimizu, Bertram Smith, Truman Stivers, Ethel Bawden, Doris Bever, Muriel Downs, Doris Fletcher, Barbara Gerschler, Leona High, Shirley Larsen, Lois Lovell, Cynthia Melgord, Betty Penn, Shirley Shapiro, Carla Thayer, Roberta Treiman, Maxine York and Vivian Yule.

Small Incomes Too Hard Hit, Declares Local Assemblyman

Stating that in his opinion the Governor's income tax proposals hit too forcefully at small incomes, Assemblyman Frank G. Martin told the Metropolitan Business Association meeting in Pasadena this week that he does not like the new budget as a whole. He said that he considered it too "piecemeal."

As far as his own actions were concerned, Mr. Martin said, he would continue to examine carefully each proposition as it came up, and regardless of party alignment, he would vote for or against it as his judgement told him. He felt that it is up to his constituents to express themselves definitely one way or another so that representatives might be guided accordingly.

Long No Fire Record Broken As Autos Burst Into Flames

The fire department had two calls during the week despite the rain, both blazes doing slight damage to parked automobiles.

A short circuit in the self-starter cable started a fire in a car belonging to an unnamed woman Sunday. Fire Chief W. D. Richards extinguished the flames with a hand extinguisher and left a note telling the owner what had happened. He returned to the station house, received a call that rubbish under the car was aflame. While he was attending to that job the woman returned to her car, thanked Richards for his efforts, and drove away.

Saturday, Jimmy Kelleher's stripped down flivver roadster caught afire during the night—apparently for no other reason than spontaneous combustion. A garden hose doused the flames before Fire Chief Richards arrived.

Mayor Asks City To Help Boy Scouts

Week Of Feb. 8th To 14th
Set Aside To Celebrate
25th Birthday

In company with the mayors of every city in America, Mayor H. C. Reavis, of Sierra Madre, has issued a proclamation, recommending that the citizens of the city observe Boy Scout Week, from February 8th to 14th, celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization. Citing the fact that they have done good work in this community, during the war, and in times of distress, he calls attention to their many emergency responses in the relief of suffering, and to their prompt action, at the request of President Roosevelt, on February 10th last, in the collection of clothing and house furnishings for the relief of the needy.

In his proclamation Mayor Reavis says: "The objective of the present Ten Year Program of the Boy Scouts of America is to provide for the Nation a citizenry in which one of every four of the new male citizens each year will have had at least four years of Scout training. During the past 25 years 6,530,330 persons through the various branches of Scouting have enjoyed adventure, hiking, camping, swimming, woodcraft, handicraft, fellowship, health and safety, and have learned how to be helpful to others and have been trained to be participating citizens."

"I earnestly recommend that our civic organizations, our churches and our schools co-operate in carrying out a program for a definite recognition of the effective service rendered by the Boy Scouts of America, in order that the work of the Boy Scout Program may be extended to a larger proportion of the boyhood of this city."

Empty Chair In Council To Be Filled

Successor To W. J. Lawless
Will Be Named Wednesday—5 Names Heard

At its meeting next Wednesday evening the City Council will fill the vacancy in its membership caused by the death of William J. Lawless. The appointment will be for the unexpired term, or somewhat more than two years.

Five names are being prominently mentioned in connection with the vacancy, though several of those suggested and in whose interest Councilmen have been approached, are known not to be even receptive candidates.

The name of Mrs. W. J. Lawless, widow of the late Councilman, has been suggested from many quarters. Several influential citizens have put on an actual campaign in Mrs. Lawless' behalf, admitting that they had no assurance she would be willing to serve. There has never been a woman on the Council.

Others in whose behalf the votes of Councilmen have been solicited are Thomas Schwartz, past master of the local Masonic lodge; Roy Pickett, George M. McRoberts, and Captain E. G. Everett, of the Canyon Park area.

If the Council should fail to name a successor to Mr. Lawless within 30 days there would be a call for a special election by the people. This is considered to be highly improbable.

Confronted With His Finger Prints Tramp Leaves City

George Sherman probably won't be arrested again in Sierra Madre for vagrancy. Sunday he made the mistake of forgetting that five years ago he was fingerprinted by local police, so when Chief of Police McMillan asked him his name he "forgot" that, too.

The tramp's first mistake was in refusing to work for a meal. A householder, of whom he begged food, was irked at his reluctance to work and phoned the police. He refused to give his name to Chief McMillan, but the finger print files for 1930 refreshed his memory.

Judge Thomas Neale sentenced Sherman to 30 days in jail, but the sentence was suspended on condition that he get out of town and stay out. He did, and promised that he will.

Biscailuz To Talk On Crime Prevention At Masons' Dinner

Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz

"Crime Prevention" will be the topic of a talk to be given by Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz at the Masonic Lodge's Civic Dinner to be held in the Masonic Hall here Tuesday, February 19. A surprise entertainment has been announced by Thomas Miller, Jr., lodge master, and the public is cordially invited to be present. The admission fee will be nominal, and "Potomac Tommy's" delicious size dinner will be served.

Creative Art Group Here To Organize

An informal get-together of those interested in the creative arts, especially those active in the practice and teaching of the literary musical and dramatic arts, will take place Saturday afternoon, February 9th, from 3 to 5 o'clock, at the Pepper Tree Inn, 90 South Sierra Madre avenue, Sierra Madre. It is planned to have this as the opening meeting of a monthly series. Considerable interest has been expressed and groups from Los Angeles and Glendora have announced their intention of attending.

Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney, managing editors of "Poetry World," poetry editors of "Unity," authors of many books of poetry and well-known teachers of poetry technique, will each give a reading of their poems as part of the program. The Cheyneys, who have settled here after a coast-to-coast recital tour from Pennsylvania, are among the moving spirits of this new social development.

Florence Eakman, head of the Children's Drama Guild, author of several books of poetry and winner in National poetry contests, will give a reading, and Francis Eakman, of the Eakman Players, will present several songs. Both the Eakmans are interested in the organization of this group, as is Harold Carew, literary editor of the Star News, who is scheduled for an address.

Herbert Riley, of Glendale, internationally known cellist, who has been affiliated with the Boston Symphony and New York Philharmonic and other foremost orchestras, will add to the musical aspect of the program. Mrs. Mary Ward, of Sierra Madre, and Henry E. Swensen, author of "Night Shall Pass," and teacher at the Roosevelt High School in Los Angeles, will read poems. Mrs. Grace B. Caukin will assist as secretary of the group of co-operating artists. Mrs. A. Sedgman and her daughter, Miss Olive Sedgman, will serve as hostesses.

Arthur Evans Takes Over Big Alfalfa Ranch At Lancaster

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Evans and family, of 210 North Adams street, will leave next week to take over the management of a 200-acre alfalfa ranch near Lancaster, to the superintendency of which Mr. Evans was just appointed.

Long Beach Realty Man Buys Lot Here

The sale of a lot at the end of Woodland Drive to O. P. Luse, president of the Apartment Association of Long Beach and California, was reported this week through the office of Miss Laura E. Cadmus, 601 Woodland Drive. The property was formerly owned by Mrs. Grace Storey, of Lindsay. Mr. Luse will build on his lot in the near future.

People Have New Ideas On Prosperity

Shippey Tells Forum Townsend Plan Can Be Made
Workable; May Not Pass

Poking barbed wit at the outworn prosperity of the 1928 era of multi-millionaires, Lee Shippey talked to the Forum members here Tuesday night and again proved that he's Ourville's most pleasant after dinner speaker. The handful of listeners that braved the rain were further delighted by Dean Arnold Bode's system of introduction. Dean Bode is one of the happy few who believe that a guest such as Shippey should be introduced with as few words as possible, and allowed to start in at once.

"We all used to believe in the theory of prosperity that taught that Capital should be cared for so that there would be a lot of millionaires who could afford to hire all of us as servants," Shippey said. "We couldn't see, somehow, that when a few individuals cut a cake into ten pieces and eat nine pieces themselves—there is only one piece for all of to divide up—you can't cut any cake in the world like that, and call it prosperity."

Although he didn't believe the Townsend plan would be adopted in its present form, Shippey quoted the eminent economist Roger Babson to the effect that every U. S. citizen might be supported on a $12,000 per year basis as far as the country's wealth was concerned. The success of such a plan as Townsend's depends on an alteration of the present system wherein there are still so many million dollars incomes, he said.

"If we should declare war tomorrow on Germany or Japan, Congress wouldn't hesitate to appropriate billions. We are coming more and more, to realize that the important thing is that all of our people must be fed in

New Housing Campaign To Provide Jobs

Partial Survey Calls For Home Improvements To
Cost $11,000.00

Building activity in Sierra Madre since the first of the year shows a marked increase over an identical period in 1934, and the six new construction jobs under way point to new and substantial prosperity. In January the total value of building and alteration permits issued through the City Hall was $7,324, as compared with but $824 in January last year.

On the first day of this month two permits were issued to M. Penn Phillips for construction of two modern residences on the lot at 721 East Central avenue. Believing in the future of Sierra Madre as one of the outstanding residential communities in Southern California, Mr. Phillips is aware of the fact that the city is much in need of rentable houses of up to date construction, and if the first two projects are successful he plans to extend the plan extensively on the same location.

Mrs. Myrtle G. Hill is making alterations on her home at 168 East Central avenue. J. C. Rogers has constructed a garage in the rear of his property at 277 West Highland avenue, and A. Pimentel is remodeling his 675 Brookside Lane home.

There is $11,000 worth of home modernization work awaiting Sierra Madre contractors and workmen, according to the final statistics gathered by SERA canvassers and released to the local Better Housing committee. This figure represents only the home owners, who were checked as good prospects and does not include tenant prospects.

Monday night 20 contractors, merchants and workmen engaged in the building trades met here with John S. Billheimer, chairman of the FHA general committee and various sub-committee chairmen for the purpose of planning the procedure to be used in following up prospects. It was decided to issue numbers to each of the 17 contractors registered, and to assign jobs in rotation by blind selection.

Judge Thomas W. Neale was named chairman of the consultation committee to handle this portion of the work, and Mrs. Grace Caukin will act as his assistant, to be stationed in the City Hall for one hour daily.

BASE INGRATITUDE

For generations the newspapers of the United States have championed the schools and espoused the cause of the public school teacher in every forward and progressive school movement. The press will not recede from that traditional stand. It is pledged to the highest standards of free American education and it is proud of its record and consistent in its course.

But the press of America can and will defend itself against insidious attacks that may be or have been launched against it by teachers or their representatives. It stands four-square on its record when it is made the object of an unfair, unethical attack, and it is unafraid of the consequences of a vigorous offensive against unwarranted political activity such as has been fostered by the California Teachers Association and directed at the lifeblood of the newspapers.

CLASS IN BRIDGE IS OFF TO GOOD START

J. A. Yarbrough's weekly contract bridge classes, inaugurated at the Park House last Thursday evening, held its second successful session at the same place last night. The class is being conducted under the State adult education setup and is free to everyone.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB TO MEET
The Friendship Club will meet next Monday evening in the Ladies' Parlors of the Congregational Church.

ciation's recommendation for a tax on advertising and the criticism is directed not only at the fallacy of the association's argument, but particularly at the insidious propaganda campaign that is intended to fortify its demand.

In a recent bulletin issued by the association and distributed to members of the State legislature, among other things, were these statements: "A tax on advertising. The tax is reasonably sound. In the long run, advertising adds nothing to social wealth."

The statement is a direct challenge to the newspapers of the State because it singles them out for a vicious and unwarranted attack. It leaves no room for doubt as to its intended victim, for it names the newspaper, periodical and "dodger" as the vehicles of advertising.

In effect, the teachers' association has declared war on its best friend. It has slapped the publisher's cheek before and got away with it, but its latest offensive has aroused the fighting spirit of the press. Don't think for a minute that the fur will not fly from here out!

The newspaper fraternity, from publisher down to printer's devil, is proud of the American system of public schools and ready to defend that system to the last ditch, but it can find no cause for pride in any clique of professional people who flaunt their prestige in the face of common sense and economic logic. It can find no cause for pride, for instance, in the powerful teachers' lobby that uses every political trick at its command to "influence" legislation at Sacramento, to manipulate measures which fatten its own pocketbook.

Let the teachers' association bear in mind this very serious situation, that the school costs of California are approximately 70 percent of all its governmental expenses. Let the association lend an ear to public clamor for economy in government, listen to the groans from overburdened taxpayers, then turn its talents to a program of reducing costs of education.

On sober reflection, neither press nor public should feel regret that the association has shown its true colors in attacking the newspapers, for in that attack lies ample justification for a vigorous drive by an aroused public on the most notorious lobby inflicting on this State. The public is long suffering, but it is not yellow.

'What Of It' Will Be Presented In The School Auditorium

"What Of It?" the Junior Women's 1935 song and dance revue will be staged one night only, Saturday, March 2, at the Sierra Madre grammar school auditorium, it was announced this week. At a meeting of the Juniors it was decided that the school stage would allow for a better presentation than any other local stage, and that the audience could be more comfortably accommodated there.

One act of the show is to be a repeat performance, due to popular demand. This act is the slapstick skit, "Yellow Peril," written by Paul Gerard Smith, prominent stage and radio writer whose dramatic material has been produced from Broadway to Hollywood. Smith, incidentally, is responsible for the production's absurd title, which has managed to create much speculation as to its meaning—if any.

Miss Cricket Calkin, under whose direction the dance selections of both "Hey Diddle" and "Star Gazers" so successfully resulted, is now busy creating even more intricate and pleasing routines for next month's revue. Assisting her in the instruction of the chorus and ensemble is Miss Ruth von Klunk, who is also an instructor in the Cricket Calkin Dance Studio here.

BLACK LILIES HERE COMING INTO BLOOM

Los Angeles gardeners haven't got a thing on Sierra Madre. When a metropolitan newspaper recently publicized the blooming of a rare black Calla Lily, Mrs. Jessie M. Price pulled up her ears. Down to THE NEWS office she came, with a cardboard box under her arm.

"Take a look at this," she smiled. In the box was a black lily—a flower with a deep purple petal, and a long velvet-black stamen. Three years ago Mrs. Price secured the lily plant from Long Beach and transplanted it to her garden at 279 East Grand View avenue in Sierra Madre.

This is the first time M. S. Price's unusual plant has bloomed. There are several others in Sierra Madre, but they have not bloomed yet this year.

True Detective Story by Vance Wynn

Mystery of the Old Carpet Bag

ONE hundred thousand dollars in gold, packed in iron boxes, and these in turn placed in a safe with a Chubb lock, was stolen during the trip from Folkestone to Boulogne.

That is to say, the gold was in the safe when it left the office of the express company and it was not there when it reached its destination. To add to the mystification there were only three keys to the safe and the whereabouts of each one was known.

The traffic superintendent in London had one; the head of the Folkestone railway had another, and the captain of the Folkestone-Boulogne boat had the third. The outside of the safe gave some evidence of having been tampered with, but the iron boxes, instead of holding gold dust, were filled with small shot.

When had the gold been stolen? Where had the change been made from the gold to the shot? Who could have been guilty of this audacious robbery? These were the three questions which troubled the police of two countries.

It was annoying, irritating and all of the other things in the calendar. The boats running between the two ports were carefully searched. The waiting rooms at both ends of the line were subjected to a keen scrutiny, and altogether the detectives used up all the tricks of the trade in trying to find the clue to this astonishing theft.

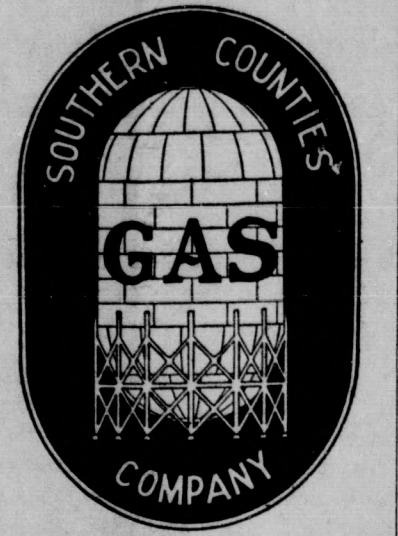

Finally they found an article that cast a ray of light on the case. It was in the form of an old carpet bag which was located in the station at Folkestone. The ownership of the bag was traced to a man named Peter Agar. That in itself meant nothing. The great big fact was that the photograph of Peter Agar occupied a place of honor in the Rogues gallery at Scotland Yard.

Numerous copies of this photograph were made and were shown to conductors, sailors, storekeepers and others, and as a result of this it was pretty well proved that Peter Agar had been seen loitering in the vicinity of the Folkestone-Boulogne boat on the day the money disappeared.

But if he were guilty of the theft how could he have gotten the money

Insignia Design Of Monrovia Man Is Adapted By Gas Co.

First prize for the creation of a new design to be used as a company insignia has been awarded ed Carl Meredith, a welder employed by Southern Counties Gas company in Monrovia, according to an announcement by Homer Mead, local manager for the gas company in this district.

Meredith's drawing, in attractive colors, was selected by a committee of judges from the company's general offices among more than a hundred designs submitted by 52 employees throughout the company's entire system.

The central part of the design for the new insignia is a drawing in natural color of a modern gas holder of the type which Southern Counties Gas Company originated some years ago. Holders of this type are used in many of the cities and towns served by the company for the purpose of keeping a reserve supply of natural gas immediately available in the event of an emergency.

CYPS TO SPONSOR ICE CREAM SOCIAL

The Young People of the Congregational Church are sponsoring an ice cream social to be given in the social hall on February 23. A program including a surprise for the children, community singing, ice cream and cake will be given. The receipts from the social will be given by the young people to the Easter fund of the church.

from the locked safe?

In the meantime the police started to look for Peter.

It might have taken them a long while to locate him if Peter had not been conveniently arrested for forging checks. The detectives visited him in jail and asked him to tell what he knew of the robbery of the safe with the gold dust.

He was quite ignorant of this, and intimated that he considered it highly unprofessional to ask a man if he is a safe robber when he is already serving time as a check forger.

In other words, he declined to give the authorities any information.

One morning a woman named Mrs. Kay called at Scotland Yard, and without any preliminaries told the amazed officials that the gold-dust robbery had been committed by Agar, John Pierce and Charles Tester. Tester was employed in the traffic department at London bridge.

They asked her what motive she had in "squealing."

She answered in one word: "Revenge."

It seems that when Agar went to jail on the forgery charges he left $45,000 with Pierce to support Mrs. Kay, who was his "dear friend." Pierce sent her money once or twice, and then ceased payment altogether.

It was evident that he intended to cheat her.

She was furious and a furious woman is dangerous. The state of affairs was explained to Agar and he told the whole story.

Agar and Pierce had conceived the scheme of robbing the safe, but in order to do so it was necessary to get the assistance of some one connected with the railway.

They took Tester into partnership, and his first move came when Pierce visited the Folkestone office with a handful of wax and secured an impression of the key of the safe. After that it was simply a matter of arranging the details.

They arranged to meet the messenger with the safe at a certain point in the journey. Agar carried the old carpet bag filled with shot and this was quickly substituted for the gold dust.

The loot was divided into three equal parts and the mystery might never have been solved if it had not been for the old carpet bag.

NO FIRE ESCAPE FOR STATE LEGISLATORS IN MEETING STATE'S REVENUE PROBLEM

Expert Doubts Ability Of Law Makers To Improve
On Governor's Budget

By Ralph H. Taylor
Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California

CALIFORNIA lawmakers, if they reject major tax proposals of Governor Merriam's budget message and deadlock on substitute revenue measures, may confront new and wholly unexpected difficulties.

"They can't go down the fire-escape!"

Such, at any rate, is the consensus of opinion of many attorneys who have considered the State's financial dilemma—and the dilemma of the lawmakers.

The legislative fire-escape in the event of a hopeless deadlock on revenue proposals is a time-worn provision empowering the State Board of Control and the State Board of Equalization to levy an ad valorem, or direct state property tax, to meet any deficiency in state revenues.

Such a tax could be made without direct legislative sanction. In other words, if legislative confusion became too great, the lawmakers could always go home leaving the State administration with the unwelcome and unhappy task of imposing a State property tax.

But the legislative fire-escape never used before because it was never needed, has fallen into disrepair, according to inquisitive attorneys, and it is exceedingly doubtful whether it offers any escape at all in the present unprecedented period of tax extremity.

The condition of the traditional means of escape from legislative frustration—more important now than ever before, due to the imperative need of new revenues, and the violently vocal opposition of every group scheduled for additional taxation—is, at the least, legally doubtful.

There is, to be sure, a provision in the Political Code—Section 3713—setting forth that the Board of Control and the Board of Equalization may levy an ad valorem tax in the event of a serious deficiency in State revenues to meet State expenditures. But this provision states that such a tax shall be levied in accordance with Subdivision "E" of Section 14 of Article 13 of the State Constitution. And Subdivision "E" of Section 14 of Article 13 was repealed by the voters of California when they adopted the Riley-Stewart Tax Relief Plan more than a year and a half ago.

The real question involved is whether a statute, which refers back to a constitutional provision, is valid when the constitutional provision has been repealed. And if it is not valid, as many attorneys contend, California lawmakers would be forced to pass a new statute if they wished to fall back on the ad valorem tax.

"Say it with oranges" is the slogan of the National Orange Show which celebrates its twenty-fifth birthday during February 21 to March 3 at San Bernardino. The silver anniversary show will be the biggest and best ever is promised by the officials. Among the attractions will be the Horse Show de Luxe with show horses from all over the country; a food show, amusement zone, superb musical program, industrial show, scores of gorgeous displays, special days, and, of course, a reigning queen over all. Here are three pretty candidates for the queenship, reading from the top: Dorothy Story, Helen Gergen, Minnie Jo Kesper-son.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys
(With Apologies to Everyone)

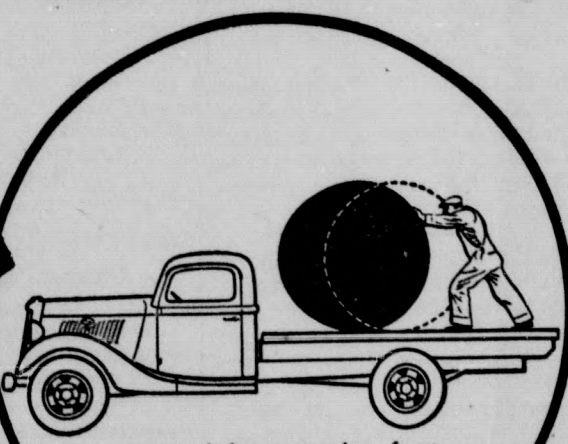

THE siren hasn't blown for months to call us to a blaze, tho' times are hard and winter's here. We're in sorta daze. It proves to us that carefulness is practiced hereabouts, and that our folk are helping us, there's not the slightest doubt. We do not crave to fight a fire, when nights are cold and wet—but if the siren sounds alarm, our interest is set. You'll see George Norris dressed in clothes that Eskimos would shun. Chief Richards will be right behind, altho' he had to run. Beneath his big blue overalls, his pink pajamas show, his shoes untied, his hair uncombed, he's not a fashion beau. Then Vern Udell comes showing up, a sight for sore eyes to see, with wavy hair that stands straight up, he might as scarcrow be. Joe Swanson may be somewhat late, but you can rest assured, he'll have his little time book out to get your signature. And when a pair of legs are seen, Steinberger must be round, it's pretty hard to talk to him, he's so far from the ground. Frank Lovell wears a pair of boots that's large enough for Milt' and when the siren blows, he shoots, from 'neath his comfy quilt. Tom Schwartz comes better dressed, but still he's quite a sight—regardless that he tries his best, his togs are not on right. Steve Petsel leaves his Canyon home, sometimes without his shoes, nor not a thing upon his dome, he has no time to lose. Bob Babbitt dreams of gold and ore, his truck is loaded rich and when the siren blows aloud, his truck goes in the ditch. Across the lots comes Louie, fast, as fast as he can pace, he's puffing like a wheezy horse, that just had lost a race. The rest are just as bad as these, but we have not the space to tell of all the sights to see, when firemen make a chase. So when the siren sounds again, you'll see us all about, and tho' the clothes are not so neat, we'll put the "Fire's Out."

P.S.—We promise not to do this poetic thing for a long, long time. Be patient—spring is here.

Kiwanis Kolumn

EVEN tho the day was rainy, there was a good representation at our Tuesday noon luncheon. Also one visiting member from Pomona, two from Monrovia and one from the Santa Barbara club. Those who missed the meeting, missed a very interesting one. A very good talk was given by Dr. Jack Woehler, in memory of our deceased member, William J. Lawless.

Dr. G. Masser Taylor entertained us with moving pictures taken while on his vacation trip to Hawaiian Islands. A part of Polynesia group, they were first settled about 500 A.D., he said, by people who were driven from the Malay Peninsula by war-like tribes. Each chieftain ruled over his island or portion of it until being driven out by other tribes. About 1791 King Kamehameha conquered one island after another until he controlled the entire group and was made King of the Islands, and continued so until President McKinley's administration, when Hawaii came under the protection of U.S.A.

For many years the Islands were used as a base for whaling parties, later becoming quite an important center in the whaling industry. In latter years the growing and refining of sugar cane took the lead and still continues to be the leading industry of the Islands—to the extent of some 12 million dollars worth of sugar per year. The pineapple industry, second in importance, shows a gross receipt of some three million dollars a year.

In 1876 by a special agreement, the United States took the duty off sugar and agreed to take the entire supply from the islands. In the same treaty the port of Pearl Harbor became a naval base, and the outpost for naval operations.

Dr. Taylor said that Hawaii and the many other islands nearby are a rare vacation ground and judging by the very interesting pictures which he had taken, I'm sure it must be.

MANY JOIN IN CELEBRATING FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE CHILDRENS DRAMATIC GUILD

Park House Filled To Overflowing As Young Players Put On Program

A MERRY CROWD of children enjoyed the first birthday party of the Children's Drama Guild of Sierra Madre last Saturday. The Park House was filled to overflowing. Many guests were obliged to stand, a further proof of the need of adequate operating quarters for this worthwhile project. W. R. Humphries was in charge of the afternoon's program. He gave an excellent talk on the important part the Guild plays in the educational life of the community.

Awards were made to Grace Jensen, Margaret Adwell, and Anna Sue Adwell for attendance, promptness and excellent work. An additional award was given to Marilyn Middough for effort. Mary Lou Lovejoy received honorable mention. Mr. Humphries presented the children to the audience, whereupon each child addressed the group with poise worthy of an adult.

Honor badges were presented to the six charter members of the Guild for their year of service. Anna Sue Adwell, Guild president, spoke briefly on the prospect of a children's theatre. Norma Hogan, corresponding secretary, gave a resume of the year's activities. The publicity book maintained by Russell Lovejoy during the past year was displayed and is a credit to the enterprising boy who never once failed in his duties as publicity chairman.

City Attorney Phil Dodson, father of a Guild member, spoke humorously on the advantages which he had missed as a child, remarking that it is a privilege to belong to the Drama Guild. Marjorie Griffith, who has lived in Long Beach for the past few months, made the children happy by her presence at the party. Mr. Humphries presented the Director with a beautiful bouquet and a letter of appreciation from a father and mother who could not be present.

After a short impromptu program Anna Sue surprised the director with an envelope containing theatre tickets, an expression of love from the children of the Guild.

Then came a box wrapped in tissue paper, inscribed with a birthday greeting to the Guild. A banner bearing the words "Children's Drama Guild of Sierra Madre" was unfurled by Marjorie Griffith, and Grace Jensen, who designed and made this lovely gift for the Guild.

Ice cream and cake, furnished by the mothers, was served by Mrs. William Adwell. William Adwell, Jr., decorated the immense birthday cake. Then Jane Manning took charge of the games.

The new year offers interesting developments for the Guild project. On February 9th the annual election of officers will take place. This will include a program chairman, and a historian, in addition to the regular officers. There will also be a Ways and Means committee.

Each child in the Guild will be given an opportunity to submit a lyric to be used as the Guild song. The decision will rest with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cheyney.

The Guild needs many gifts of personal time to make it prosper. Mrs. Charles Askew gives Tuesday afternoon of each week to the director. All assistance in any direction whatever will be gratefully received.

THE PENNY POST CARD IN YOUR MORNING'S MAIL COSTS MORE THAN THE GAS TO COOK BREAKFAST

And breakfast, as used here, means the breakfast for an entire average family.

When you think of the many times in a month Natural Gas cooks your meals, heats your home, warms the water in which you bathe—you realize its really insignificant cost. Modern civilization knows no more efficient, ever available and economical service than Natural Gas.

And bear in mind that the newer gas-burning devices may bring down your cost for this fuel even lower, because of better designing and far more effective insulation.

McGROARTY TELLS WHY HE HELPED CLOTHE PRESIDENT WITH CZAR-LIKE AUTHORITY

Opposes Roosevelt Only On The Townsend Old Age Pension Plan

By John Steven McGroarty
Congressman, 11th District

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Folks in the 11th Congressional District will remember that both before the primaries, and after, I made certain promises, and that one of them was that I would support the President in his plans and policies.

I think I have kept the promise with one exception, so far, the exception being that I felt it my duty to the people at home to support the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan which the President opposes. It was a question of choosing to stand with the people of the district or stand against them with the President.

However, when the main test of standing for or against the President came up in Congress I stood with him down the line from start to finish. He asked the Congress to vote an appropriation of four billion eight hundred and eighty million dollars for unemployment relief in the way of furthering his public works policy and for other relief measures. And to hand that vast sum over to him, personally, and without any string to it.

Amendment after amendment was offered for the purpose of defeating the President's request to spend the money as he sees fit, and nobody to say to him "nay." Congress in all its history had never before taken such a step. It means the abandonment of its Constitutional functions and prerogatives absolutely, and no question about it.

Yet I voted against every amendment offered, for the reason that I was convinced if the Congress did not agree to the President's demands, relief for unemployment would be delayed. It is not that I would not trust the money in his hands, or even that it might be better to let him have it his way, because it is often better to let one man handle a job than to put it into the hands of too many handlers, on the theory that too many cooks spoil the broth. I just didn't like taking a step that seemed to me to be a step away from the traditions of the Republic and possibly away from the spirit, if not the letter, of the Constitution.

But, out yonder were ten million people unemployed and facing hunger and despair. The money asked for would relieve their distress. That's what swayed me. And so I cast my vote with others who felt the same as I did. The President can now go ahead. There is nothing to stop him.

The comforting thought is that he didn't ask the money for himself but for his countrymen and their families who are in sore need. God give him wisdom and strength to administer a trust and responsibility immeasurably greater than any ruler has ever asked for or was granted in all the history of free government.

The world wondered at the complete control of this Congress by Franklin D. Roosevelt. His demands upon the Congress were put through by a steam roller exhibition unparalleled in history. And because of this he is heralded as the most astute politician ever to guide the White House.

This, doubtless, is true. Yet he could not help but control. He had a weapon in his hands that none of us cared or dared to withstand—the weapon of the cry of need from ten million souls in despair.

I stood with him. I could not do less. Not that my one vote mattered one way or the other. But there it is on record to stand till Doomsday. I am glad it is so. My conscience is clear.

All of which I submit to our people at home whose servant I am and whose trust has been placed in me as their chosen representative at Washington.

Woman's Club Notes...

By Mildred Curtis Bolms

JUST a word to remind you that next Wednesday, February 13, is Reciprocity Day. An array of ingenious hostesses has been devoting many days to perpetuate the fine attributes of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club is noted for, to-wit: hospitality, graciousness, sincerity and intellect. And, of course, these things all emanate from a background!

Mrs. Grace Y. Hudson's recent remark that, "the Sierra Madre Woman's Club had always held an enviable position in the Federation," was surely born of a close observation of these gifts. Let us see what is planned for next week.

The welcome to guests will be given by Mrs. A. E. Pulling, after which Marguerite Baldwin will give several vocal selections accompanied by Raymond H. Baldwin.

Mrs. O. B. Manchester will then conduct us through the mystic, cherry-blossom land of Japan, which will be fittingly followed by more music. This time Donald Thayer will sing.

An unusually-delightful luncheon will be served at 1 p.m. A large attendance is expected, so please be in your seats at five minutes to 11 o'clock to avoid that last-minute confusion.

WE all had such a very good time at the recent Junior Dessert Bridge that, quite naturally, we are wondering when we will be invited to another one.

It was one of those rare days that stand out in that incomparable interlude, known as the "California Season," you know; and the group seemed to react to the lighter mood of a passing January.

There were great vases of golden acacia and delicate hether scattered throughout the room. And some one had placed a most gorgeous bouquet of poinsettias at the entrance as a note of cheery welcome.

The committee of hostesses on this affair was composed of Mrs. H. B. Cant, Mrs. Henry J. Lannon, Jr., and Miss Mary Davis; also saw Cricket Caukin in waiting on the tables.

Which leads up to that dessert, which certainly tasted like some Ambrosia from Mt. Olympus itself. No wonder everyone appeared to be winning prizes!

The gold star list includes the names of such stellar players as: Mrs. Woodson F. Jones, Mrs. Henry Lannon, Jr., Mrs. Mark Welscher, Mrs. W. D. Richards, Mrs. A. E. Pulling, Mrs. E. D. Burbank, Mrs. Val Miller, Mrs. D. Vanderpool, Mrs. Ethel Davis, Mrs. H. B. Hersey, Mrs. Rae Felt, Mrs. Glen Well, and Mrs. J. J. Conley in Auction and Contract, while M. A. Woodward won first prize in 500.

And those score cards, bye-the-way, were the most original tricksters, ever.

It is easy to perceive why Mrs. J. H. Robertson and Mrs. J. M. Campbell (who were present) are so inflated over their Juniors.

Sierra Madrean Wins High Honors On His Graduation

Eighteen-year-old Robert P. Baugh is graduating from Manual Arts High School this month with high departmental honors from the Biological Department of the school for his original research work in the botanical field. Young Baugh was born in Sierra Madre, and now lives in Los Angeles. He is a nephew of Mrs. Edith N. Hawxhurst, president of the local Historical Society, and his father, F. P. Baugh, is a member of the Masonic Lodge here.

The talented youth's term thesis was "An Ecological Survey of Rock Creek Basin, in Bishop, California," comprised sixty typewritten pages, drawings to scale, photographs, mounted specimens and other scientific data. Field work for the technical paper was done when his parents purchased Rock Creek Lodge in the High Sierra, above Bishop. During the summer months he discovered that the region was well adapted to botanical work, containing wide varieties of plant life.

FLU HITS CITY HALL AND THE POST OFFICE

Old man Flu laid low several Sierra Madre city officials and business men this week. City Business Manager Al S. Myers was confined to his home with a severe cold, City Clerk Waverly E. Pratt was back on the job but still sniffing from a cold that had kept him in bed last week-end.

Emile Smith returned to his duties at the Post Office Monday, weakened by an extended attack of influenza, and Henry Lannon was in bed Monday with the same ailment. Doctor John Woehler spent the weekend in bed with a bad cold, but was back at his office early this week.

Oppose Proposed Change In Gas Tax Road Allocations

Opposing a bill now before the legislature which would take the allocation of gasoline tax money out of local hands and place it under jurisdiction of the State Highway Commission for use in the general fund, William L. Pollard, chairman of the L. A. Countywide Highway Committee was principal speaker Tuesday evening at the Associated Chambers of Commerce Meeting in San Gabriel. Earl Lee Kelley, director of the State public works department also addressed the meeting on the importance of maintaining the highway system through gas tax apportionments. Present as representatives of the local Chamber of Commerce were Clarence Huntsinger and R. C. Copenhaver.

Field Workers Of SERA Assigned To Office Hours Here

For the convenience of Sierra Madre SERA workers and those securing aid from the county relief administration, two field representatives from those offices are at present stationed in the City Hall.

Every Tuesday afternoon, from 1:30 to 3 o'clock, Mrs. Mary Smith, of the county relief administration, will be stationed here to hear problems of those on county rolls. She previously had been scheduled to be here Mondays.

The district paymaster of the SERA will be in the City Hall Council chambers daily from 1 to 7 p.m. for the benefit of local men working on the Orange Grove paving project and out of town government jobs.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD GOES TO THE LIBRARY

The Congressional Record, which were being sent to the late Councilman W. J. Lawless by Congressman John Steven McGroarty, has been turned over to the Sierra Madre library by Mrs. W. J. Lawless for the benefit of the public.

Beautification Of West Central Ave. Up To State Now

Prepared to urge that the county's share of the $24,000,000 State relief bond issue be used for work projects rather than for a dole, Supervisor Herbert C. Legg arrived in Sacramento yesterday to confer with Governor Merriam and Frank Y. McLaughlin, State relief administrator.

Monday the planning board will meet and consider projects to be laid before it by the Board of Supervisors. Among these projects will be plans for county highway beautification, and upon the board's decision rests the outcome of Sierra Madre's hope for landscaping of the West Central avenue extension.

The only "Advantage" you can expect from bigger cleaning establishments is a higher price

ARISTOCRATIC SHRUBS SUBJECT OF GARDEN CLUB

Next Tuesday night, February 12, the Garden Club at the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High school will discuss the aristocrats among our flowering shrubs when they talk of "Camellias, Azaleas, Rhododendrons, Gardenias, and Dahphnods."

All who are interested are invited to come and bring samples of any of these flowers they may have, to show to the class. You may join this class, which is without entry fees or charges of any kind.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE OF ETHER CLUB NEARS END

The Ether Girls' Club will meet next Wednesday at the home of Miss Dorothy Wamock, 258 East Central avenue. This meeting will close the membership drive, upon which club members have centered their attention for number of weeks.

Improved Business Shown By Increase In Ford Car Sales

Three times as many Ford trucks were delivered in Southern California and Arizona the first 20 days in January as in the corresponding period a year ago, the most recent figures compiled at the Long Beach branch reveal. Deliveries of commercial units are likewise far in excess of last year, the figures show, with many unfilled orders on hand.

"We knew we were off to a banner start this year," Ira B. Groves, manager, declared, "but the actual figures make our most optimistic prophecies look conservative. The public is buying the new Ford, and in greater numbers than at any time for years past."

"Our truck sales have been little short of sensational. The new load distribution and consequent easier tire-and-brake-wear, seems to be meeting with enthusiastic public approval."

"While the 1935 V-8 engine is fundamentally the same as last year's engine, one vastly important improvement has been made. The new crankcase ventilation system greatly increases economy of operation by minimizing oil dilution and the formation of sludge in the crankcase."

"Drivers are enthusiastic about the new passenger-type cab. Roomier, with mattress-type cushions, the cab now has clear-vision ventilation, safety glass, large screened cowl ventilator, and a package compartment on the instrument panel—features giving the truck driver passenger car comfort," Mr. Groves concluded. The new truck models have been received by the Sierra Madre Garage, local Ford distributor.

Munitions Subject Of Forum Meeting

At next Tuesday's Forum in the City Hall, Mrs. George B. Morgridge will review Dow Pearson's much discussed new book, "Our Diplomatic Service," which bears on the subject of munitions so ably discussed by Mrs. Morgridge some weeks ago.

There will follow a three sided discussion led by Miss Sybil J. Moore of Pasadena on the subject "Buying Health, or Socialized Medicine." Dr. J. L. Woehler will speak on the attitude of the dental profession, and Dr. J. Earl Gossard on that of the medical profession. A very stimulating discussion on such a live subject should result.

OBITUARY

GEORGE E. HALPIN

George Edward Halpin, former owner of the Coffee Shop, died Wednesday night at his home at 153 East Highland avenue. Efforts of the Volunteer firemen to prolong his life by means of the pulmotor were to no avail. Masonic services will be conducted at Grant's Funeral Parlors tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Surviving Mr. Halpin are his widow, Mrs. Lizzie J. Halpin, two sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Leveell, of Gage, Illinois, and Mrs. Hester McSpadden of St. Louis, Missouri, and a brother, William Halpin of Minnith, Missouri.

Mr. Halpin was 56 years old. He came to California and to Sierra Madre 13 years ago from his birthplace in St. Mary's Missouri, where he was engaged in farming. Besides being a prominent Mason in the local lodge he was a member of the Royal Arch lodge 129 in Monrovia.

LOCAL WOMAN NAMED FOR HIGH DEMOCRATIC POST

Mrs. Grace B. Calkin, National congressional committeewoman from Sierra Madre, has been notified that she is a member of the board of directors of the Women's Democratic League of Southern California. She will meet with the board at the Hotel Biltmore February 14.

GUILD HEARS REPORT ON EPISCOPAL CONVENTION

A very interesting report of the Episcopal convention held at St. Paul's Cathedral, Los Angeles, last week was given by Dean A. G. H. Bode of the Church of the Ascension on Tuesday at a meeting of the Order of St. Catherine. The organization met at the home of Mrs. Mary D. Goodfellow, 41 East Grand View avenue. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Webster Vannier, 131 Bonita avenue.

Reception To Honor Past Presidents Of Wilson High PTA

A Founders' Day program and reception for past presidents will be held next Wednesday, February 13, by the Woodrow Wilson Junior high school Parent-Teachers' Association. The affair will begin at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the Willard auditorium. Tea will be served by the mothers of the children of the eighth grade. An especially large attendance from Sierra Madre is desired. Those desiring transportation are asked to telephone Mrs. George L. Hilbert, transportation chairman, at 144-3.

PEOPLE HAVE NEW IDEAS ON PROSPERITY

times of peace. Probably there was never a time in the history of any nation that the government attempted to do as much in that direction.

"But sooner or later political control of such matters as feeding the people and hiring them, leads to selfish usurpation of privilege and power. Business has been so blind that it gave to the politicians the job of leveling the wealth from the rich to the poor. Business was blind, and laid off men who had to be cared for somehow. Improved technical equipment should be installed only when the benefits provided are equally distributed among the many."

Socialism has never succeeded, Shippey stated, because always the idealist who started the movement had to designate authority to Deputy Lenins and Deputy Trotskyes, who in turn had to designate authority to local politicians—and soon the privileges were being held by the few again.

Commenting on the possibilities offered by the Federal Housing plan, Shippey said, "No other country has ever conceived such a plan, a plan that can bring prosperity at the same time it raises standards of living."

Of the SERA's aid to destitute actors and other artists, Shippey spoke in praise. He told of the old church in downtown Los Angeles which the SERA has turned into a studio capable of turning out any sort of theatrical production for free presentation in any town.

"For the first time in America," he said, "we have an approach to a national theatre—that is, government support of stage people—Uncle Sam is keeping actors from robbing people by supporting them. I mean robbing people by charging admission to the shows—Yes, there is tremendous import to the government's plan of providing all of the people with bread and butter. Our realization that all must be fed will lead to some better order of things."

The second speaker of the evening was Lowell H. Coates, secretary of the California Cooperative League, who distinguished between the long established internationally recognized cooperative movement and the mushroom emergency Coops.

Started in Cincinnati nearly a hundred years ago the League has spread over England and Europe, Coates said, and now encompasses organizations in 51 countries. The League, in California, is an educational movement rather than a political organization and has been in operation for five years.

"England," he said, "has the most powerful cooperative in the world, and the Cooperative Bank of London is the largest bank in Britain next to the Bank of England—As cooperation advances, government recedes—Through cooperation we lean toward peace and through capitalistic competition we always shall go toward war. Through cooperation we learn to monetize our wealth instead of our debts," he concluded.

Do You Operate Under a Fictitious Firm Name?

If so, have you complied with the requirements of Section 2466 of the Civil Code, which says: "Every person and every partnership transacting business . . . under a fictitious firm name . . . must file . . . a certificate stating the name in full and the place of residence of such persons and the members of such partnership. . . . Such certificate must be published once a week for four consecutive weeks."

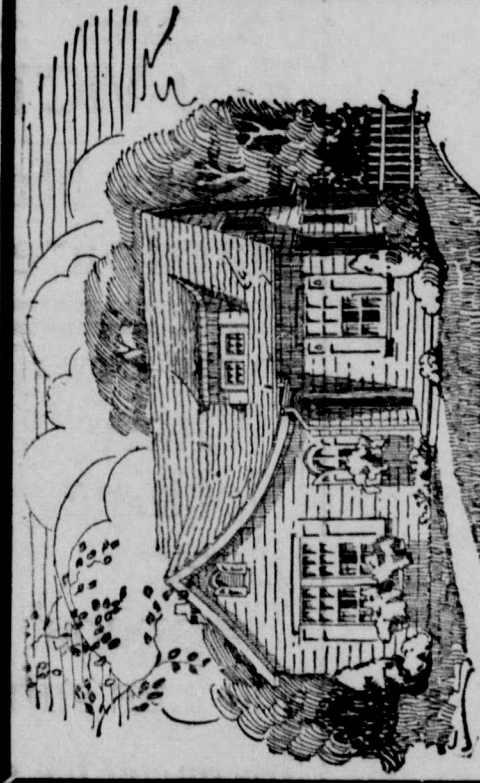

If you have neglected this procedure, do you realize that the name of your firm is not protected, and that you are not entitled to maintain suits in the courts of the State of California?

Take care of this important matter NOW by having the Sierra Madre News publish the certificate. The cost is small, but the filing and publication is something which should not be overlooked.

THE PENNY POST CARD IN YOUR MORNING'S MAIL COSTS MORE THAN THE GAS TO COOK BREAKFAST

And breakfast, as used here, means the breakfast for an entire average family.

When you think of the many times in a month Natural Gas cooks your meals, heats your home, warms the water in which you bathe—you realize its really insignificant cost. Modern civilization knows no more efficient, ever available and economical service than Natural Gas.

And bear in mind that the newer gas-burning devices may bring down your cost for this fuel even lower, because of better designing and far more effective insulation.
